Chairperson, Rick Larson, began by stating that there would be a departure from the published agenda in light of conflict of interest concerns. Rick read letters of resignation from Doug Brown, Lynn Brown, Marc Vaillancourt and himself. Rick offered clarification that by accepting Doug’s resignation, Lynn could legitimately remain on the board, since she would no longer be sharing a position on the board. Rick went on to challenge Riana Klaustermeier to resign due to her recent hiring as a substitute paraprofessional at NDMA. The board accepted Doug, Marc and Rick’s resignations.

The following guests were welcomed: Dr. Lora Dagel, Joan Sax, Heather Vaillancourt, Stephanie Bandas, Amara Falk, Anna Anderson, Derek Niemeyer.

Spotlight Report
Dr. Lora Dagel, Continuous Improvement Specialist has been with NDMA since June working on math and reading goals for the SIP and SIG. She shared that they have a 55 page document that will help them prepare for a visit in March from Marc Doty of MDE. He will be looking at the documentation from all JEPD’s, PLC’s, leadership meeting notes and personal activity reports. Joan Sax, Data and Instructional Coach gave an overview of responsibilities and duties of the administrative team, Bob, Lora, Joan and Dave. She also acknowledged Jill Bierbaum for volunteering to do hours of copying and bookmaking for the reading program.
