3. Spotlight Report – Board members completed a self-evaluation exercise for self-awareness and improvement ideas. There was discussion about a need for more legislative awareness and about how we might meet with our legislature reps or invite them here for a tour (led by students) and info session. Dave will contact Mr. Fahey about traveling to the capital with a group to speak to legislators about the property taxes that NDMA has to pay and charter school needs in general. It was also recommended that we put together and present at the annual reorganizational meeting a calendar that lists all documents the board needs to complete and submit each year.

8. Old Business
    a. Update on expansion/replication grant process: NDMA is ineligible because our enrollment is not currently at 200, nor would we be increasing to 300 with the proposed grade level expansion.

9. New Business
    a. Conrad shared how the Cost Sharing Agreement with NCA will work. Four times a year NDMA bills NCA for shared services and we would like to have an actual agreement to share expenses and bill each other. No formal action taken as New Century Academy has not signed the agreement.

Executive Director Report for NDMA’s Board of Directors – Dave Conrad
Monday, January 16, 2017

1. Dialogue and Planning with New Century
- NCA Director – Jason Becker, Kathy Prellwitz – NCA Board Chair, and Kevin Elton – NCA Teacher/Board Member, have agreed to meet with Tara Oberg, Kirsten Kinzler and me for one hour prior to every regular meeting of the NDMA Board of Directors. For now, the conversation will focus on future plans for NCA, future plans for NDMA and our shared calendar.

2. High Quality Charter Schools Announcement
- Kirsten and I received clarification last week from MDE’s Charter School Office that we are definitely not eligible to pursue the current round of grant funding for significant expansion and/or replication. Jennifer R. Nelson – Director of the State Library Services & Charter Center of the Minnesota Department of Education – confirmed that MDE’s announcement regarding the High-Quality Charter School (HQCS) designation for New Discoveries was inaccurate. Fortunately, it wasn’t HQCS designation that was inaccurate. It was, rather, the announcement that we were eligible for grant funding. As it turns out, only HQCS schools with current enrollment at or above 200 students are eligible to pursue the federal expansion/replication grant. That – unfortunately – renders us ineligible.

3. Rhianon Sargent – ACNW
- Rhianon Sargent – an Authorizing Agent with Audubon Center of the North Woods – will be at NDMA on Wednesday this week for a site visit. Although she doesn’t have a particular agenda, she would like to touch base with Kirsten and me, and have a tour of the facility. Although she planned to be here for tonight’s board meeting to observe our board members in action, she has rescheduled the observation for the regular meeting of our Board of Directors in February.

4. Administrative Review of Food Service Program
- MDE just announced dates and details for the next steps for the administrative review of our food service program. Karen and I will be completing a number of assessments, including – but not limited to - Meal Access and Reimbursement, including free and reduced-price applications, benefit issuance, verification, and counting and claiming; Nutritional Quality and Meal Pattern; Resource Management (Financial aspects of the program); and General Program Compliance (Civil rights, local wellness policy and other federal programs). These activities will culminate in an on-site visit scheduled to take place March 21st and 22nd.
5. Minnesota Math Corps
   - I submitted application for a Minnesota Math Corps tutor for the 2017-18 school year. The program – although similar to the Minnesota Reading Corps program – serves students in grades four, five and six. Minnesota Math Corps will pay most of the cost of placing a tutor at our site for the school year. In terms of expense to the school, the primary difference between Math Corps and Reading Corps is that – if the application is approved – we will have to pay a one-time fee of $1,800.00 (due in two installments: the first is due October 31st, 2017; the second is due January 31st, 2018).

6. Student Attendance
   - In the past several weeks I have sent out 18 attendance letters. I include current attendance reports, NDMA attendance policy, and a summary of Minnesota compulsory attendance law. Most of the families have responded with constructive dialogue and improved attendance.

7. Pathways II Scholarships
   - I submitted application for FY 2018 and FY 2019 Pathway II Early Learning Scholarships funding for NDMA. We are eligible for up to $45,000.00 combined for the next two fiscal years.
   - We will be notified on February 23rd regarding whether or not the application was approved.

8. Voluntary Pre-kindergarten Funding
   - I submitted application for FY 2018 for continuation of our Voluntary Pre-Kindergarten status and funding. I applied for the same funding as the current year: $72,238.16. I could have applied for expansion, but we need more real estate in order to be approved. Also, there is no funding currently in place for expansion. It is up to the MN State Legislature to allocate additional funds, if they so choose.
   - We will be notified on February 23rd regarding whether or not the application was approved.

9. Early Childhood Indicators of Progress
   - One of the VPK requirements regards progress monitoring. Although we are using AimsWeb school-wide for progress monitoring, this is not a VPK-approved program. Therefore, we will be using Formative Assessment System for Teachers (FAST) to monitor academic progress of our four-year-olds. The good news is that several of our staff have been trained in administering FAST. To that end, Virginia Roque-Reyes – our Minnesota Reading Corps Early Literacy Tutor – will be using some of her volunteer hours to assist with this project.

1) Data/Assessments
   NWEA MAP Assessment schedule is being finalized. Testing will begin in a couple weeks. AIMSweb and MN Reading Corps benchmarking is also being completed. Assessment data is being used at the CH/EI and E2 PLCs to determine instruction for students.

2) Environmental Education
   The extreme cold temperatures have prohibited any outdoor activities for the past few weeks. Perhaps with the predicted warm up students and staff will be able to appreciate winter. At our last Instructional Leadership Team (ILT) meeting, ILT members were asked to review our environmental goals and come to the next meeting with comments/suggestions/questions.

3) Marketing/Fundraisers
   Our next PTO restaurant fundraiser will be Monday, February 6th at Culver’s, Hutchinson from 5:00-8:00pm. E2 classrooms will be hosting.
   Monday, March 6th – Unhinged Pizza, Glencoe – 4:00-8:00pm – E1 Classrooms
   Tuesday, April 4th – Qdoba, Hutchinson – details coming
   MARK YOUR CALENDARS!!!
   PTO Spring Fundraiser – Dundee’s Plants (May)

4) Special Ed Audit
   The upcoming SpEd Audit will take place on Wednesday, February 22nd with Darin Graf from MDE. Ongoing paperwork is being completed and submitted.

5) School Happenings
   On Friday, January 13th, all licensed staff participated in a mental health workshop presented by Justin Rannow, Inpatient Mental Health RN from Hutchinson Health. One of the needs articulated in a community survey was the need for more mental health awareness and so they reached out to New Discoveries to begin this process. We are excited about continuing our partnership with Hutchinson Health. The staff also participated in a Continuing Ed Info Meeting to learn about the forms that we use and the process for submitting CEU credits to the committee.
