3. Back-to-School Meetings
   - Kirsten and I welcomed 21 teachers today to the first of our four days of back-to-school activities.
     o Lisa Rakhola, Kristina Grossinger and Michelle Nonnemacher presented information about their recent trip to ACNW, where they represented NDMA at an environmental education workshop. In addition to challenging us to up our game regarding integrating environmental education in our day-to-day curriculum, they gave us an easy-to-navigate roadmap for implementation.
     o Tomorrow Jennie Pine – our insurance representative from Kraus Anderson – will outline our benefit package for us, we’ll review the QComp observation/evaluation process, classroom management expectations and Responsive Classroom in the morning, and we will participate in a Jeffers Foundation environmental learning workshop.
     o Wednesday we welcome back ALL STAFF to review handbooks, OSHA blood-borne pathogens, first aid and mandated reporting. We will enjoy a chicken dinner at noon, followed by work in the classrooms and a collective summary of Responsive Classroom/classroom management.
     o Thursday will be tying up loose ends and prepping for Thursday evening’s Ice Cream Social/Open House (5:30 to 7:30 p.m.).
4. Out-of-Office
   - I offer a big and heart-felt Thank you to Kirsten, Tara and Tamara for keeping things in motion during my third out-of-town adventure to New Orleans last week. We had a GREAT time. There is certainly something to be said about taking time out to refresh and regroup.

5. Room Names
   - In an effort to avoid confusion regarding which classroom we are referring to, we have named our classrooms this year. I found that we were consistently inconsistent in how we referred to classrooms due to the fact that most of them had two teachers. Therefore, instead of referring to a classroom by one or more teacher names, they will be referred to by the room name:
     - Room 201: Apple
     - Room 301: Willow
     - Room 305: Spruce
     - Room 307: Ash
     - Room 311: Elm
     - Room 313: Oak
     - Room 317: Birch
     - Room 319: Maple
   - Each room is named for a tree that can be found on our property.

6. Food Service Audit
   - Melissa Elder - Child Nutrition Specialist with the Minnesota Department of Education - closed out on the year-long administrative review of New Discoveries today. Although we only had a couple of minor findings, it was nice to have a ribbon tied around the review with today's announcement. Melissa said, “Thank you for your hard work in correcting these findings. I greatly appreciated the effort you put forth in bringing the program into compliance in these areas.

     On behalf of the Food and Nutrition Service, we extend our appreciation to you and your staff for your commitment to improving program operations.”
